

Fun and Fellowship at the Fall 5K

The 13th annual Farragut Fall 5K, Fun Walk and Pet Parade took place Saturday, September 27, under what most runners and walkers would consider perfect weather ... cool, somewhat cloudy and a bit of a mist in the air.

Promptly at 8:00 a.m., Mayor Eddy Ford welcomed the more than 250 participants before shooting off the starting gun.

The top male finisher was Andy Baksa. The top female runner was Jasmin Keller. Two notable medals were awarded to Faye Eisenacher for placing first in her age category of female 80 years and above and John Smartt for winning the 80 and above male category. John, who is 89 years old, says that he has enjoyed the Farragut 5K for many years and looks forward to running next year.

The top Pet Parade team was Doug Sweitzer and Susan Niedergeses and dog, Buddy. Farragut Alderman Dot LaMarche was the Fun Walk winner, with second place going to the team of Ken Shipley, his son, Lane, and friend Jonah Cox.

Chamber President Bettye Sisco and 5K Chairperson Rich Barbee awarded the medals and plaques and a check for $257 was presented to Young Williams Animal Center.

Runners, walkers, families, friends and pets were treated to food and beverages provided by Farragut West Knox Chamber members; Chick-fil-A, O'Charley's Restaurant, The Lunchbox, Food City, Dunkin Donuts, Silver Spoon, Turtleheads Tea & Coffee Company, Ingles Markets, Lenoir City Utilities Board, Knoxville Culligan Water, Kroger and Linda Gildner of farragutpress.

The Chamber would like to thank Event Sponsors, TDS

Telecom, LeBlanc Financial Group, Best Western - Cedar Bluff and Cariten Healthcare; Community Sponsors, Migun - TN, BB&T, Capital Financial Group, Sitel, State Farm - Laura Ash, Vanessa Brown, Maria Bull, Cindy Doyle & Jeannette Rogers agencies, NHC - Assisted Living, Tennessee State Bank, Town of Farragut, West Knox Chiropractic, The Offices at Water's Edge, Realty Executives - Richard Barbee, ReMax Preferred Properties - Ryan Levenson and Media

Sponsors, WIVK and Knoxville News Sentinel.

Thank you also to Junk Bee Gone and Waste Connections, Tony Christen of farragutpress for the logo design and the 5K Committee; Richard Barbee, Eric Whitener, Jamie Nicely, Jody Myers, Teresa Lamb, Terry Whitaker, Vivian Akins, Regina Foy, Marianne Morse and Pam Lambert as well as the Farragut High School, Middle School, community volunteers and Hannah Whitener and Bert Griffin.

With the smoke from the starting gun billowing in the background, runners make their way up Watt Road at the Farragut Fall 5K, Fun Run & Pet Parade.

Lockwood subs for Coach Summitt

The Farragut West Knox Chamber of Commerce Speaker Series Breakfast was held Tuesday, September 30, and featured University of Tennessee Assistant Coach Dean Lockwood who substituted for Coach Pat Summitt, who was unable to attend due to a recent shoulder surgery.

More than 250 Chamber members enjoyed a full buffet breakfast at Rothchild's Catering and listened as President Bettye Sisco welcomed Board members and thanked Presenting Sponsor, First Tennessee, and Community Sponsors, Superior Carpet & Rug Cleaning, National College of Business & Technology, The Town Framery/Mary Wilbourn Gallery and Migun - TN, and presented Junk Bee Gone, Best Buy, Choice Directory and Migun - TN their Enterprise Club Anchor pillars.

Lockwood was introduced by Pam Fansler, Regional President of First Tennessee. After taking the stage, the coach brought laughter to the audience when he asked, "How would you like to be known as the person who is not Pat Summitt?"

Lockwood took the opportunity to entertain the crowd with past coaching experiences and also gave them a sense of a day in the life of a Lady Vol. Hailing from Michigan; Lockwood has been coaching for 27 years and was an assistant coach at UT under Don Devoe and Wade Houston. He became the ninth Lady Vol assistant coach when he joined the staff in 2004.

President Quotes 'n Notes

by Betty Sisco

"Blessed are the flexible for they shall not be bent out of shape."
-Michael McGriff

Are You a Solid Team Player?

Adaptability – If you won't change for the team, the team may change you.

Those that are adaptable are teachable, emotionally secure, creative and service minded.

Collaborative –

Working together precedes winning together. Being collaborative is not working against each other. It means having a positive attitude; not suspicious of others, but supportive.

Committed – There are no half hearted champions. Commitment is often discovered in the midst of adversity. Adversity fosters commitment and commitment fosters hard work. Commitment and talent are not connected unless you connect them.

Communicative – A team is many voices with a single heart. Hidden agendas, third party communications and sugarcoating hurt teams. Open communication fosters trust. Trust increases ownership and ownership increases participation.

Competent – If you can't, your team won't. Commit to excellence, perform with consistency.

Dependable – Teams go to go-to players. Pure motives, responsibility, sound thinking and consistent contributions show dependability.

Disciplined – Where there is a will there is a win. Discipline is seen in thinking, emotions and actions.

Enthusiastic – Your heart is the source of energy for the team. Attitude is a choice...your choice! Don't wait for outside sources to always charge you.

Intentional – Make every action count. Know your strengths and weaknesses, learn to say no and commit to long term achievement. Know where you are going.

Prepared – Preparation can mean the difference between winning and losing. Henry Ford observed, "Before everything else, getting ready is the secret of success."

Relational – If you get along, others will go along. Add value to each other. Have respect, share experiences, trust and give back to each other.

Self improving – To improve the team, improve yourself.

Selfless – There is no "I" in team

Solution oriented – Don't find a fault, find a remedy. Many problems are perspective, if you believe it is a problem, it is. Bad things happen but they can be fixed.

Tenacious – Never, never, never quit. Give it all you have and work with determination.

Lockwood relayed the mantra that the Lady Vols live by ... bringing the HEAT, and broke it down step by step.

The H - stands for Habit. He said that the Lady Vols have a habit of making a circle as they begin practice, signaling that they are connected. "You first create your habits, Lockwood said, and then your habits create you."

The E - is for Effort and he told the audience that there is no effort gene, but rather effort is a choice.

The A - stands for Attitude, which he said is the "heart and core" of bringing the HEAT.

The T - stands for Teamwork. He said that the Lady Vols have always been very team conscious. "They are able to constructively handle conflict amongst themselves and always have each other's back."

Lockwood compared these principals to those necessary for running a successful business and likened running a business to being a coach. A short question and answer session followed with Lockwood talking briefly about the upcoming year and some of the new players. Upon concluding his speech, Chamber members gave the coach an enthusiastic standing ovation.

Spruce up your Home with Meadow View

Judy Briody

Now that the beautiful fall weather has settled into East Tennessee, you may find yourself frequenting the outdoor expanses of your home more and more. Why not add a little color and texture to your surroundings and enjoy all that nature beholds.

Meadow View Greenhouses & Garden Center, located at 9885 Highway 11E in Lenoir City, has a plethora of annuals, perennials, shrubbery, gardening supplies and decorative accents as well as knowledgeable associates who can help turn your yard into a haven.

Owned by Rodney and Lisa Grugin, Meadow View has been in business since 1997. Part of a "growing" family, the Grugins hail from Fentress County where their family owns 14 acres of land used for growing plants and flowers sold at the garden center.

Noting that fall is a "great time to plant just about anything," Rodney says that mums and pansies have been the best sellers recently. "Our customers tell us that they are staying home more and because they are at home, they want to 'spruce up' their yards and flower beds."

Meadow View offers consulting and design service and also delivers mulch and top soil. Gardening classes offered at no charge are a popular activity throughout the year at Meadow View, but act quickly as the final class for this year will be at 10:00 a.m., Saturday, October 25. The topic for this class will be "Fall Pruning." The garden center thrives during the upcoming holiday season, where the gift shop transforms into a "Christmas Shop," and live trees and cuttings add to the sights and scents of the season.

Call Meadow View at 865-986-7229 to register for the "Fall Pruning" class or to gather more information on how the garden center can help transform your yard into an autumnal paradise.

Sales & Marketing Tips

by Joe Andrews

Joe Andrews

Re-think the benefits that your products and services can deliver to clients and how you can talk about them most effectively. (Hint: think benefits to the client not features of the product!)

Consider what is unique about your products and services that will distinguish you from competitors. Lower price alone is not a good enough reason for customers to choose your product.

Project the value of your offering - not a low price - as the main benefit. (If yours is a commodity business, think about ways to change it into a relationship business.)

Increase your flow of targeted leads in order to build your business pipeline. Ask for referrals. Network strongly. Advertise as much and as effectively as budget will allow. Use press releases to gain free publicity for your business.

Learn how to identify what drives the customer at an emotional level. This will tell you their real "needs." You can then offer solutions to those known needs. It gets you away from pushing a product and into problem solution mode.
